

Advancing Diagnostic Precision and Treatment Selection in MG

Release Date: June 8, 2026

End Date: June 8, 2028

Activity Overview

The MDA Grand Rounds: Advancing Diagnostic Precision and Treatment Selection in MG is a 90-minute live webinar in which expert faculty share up-to-date knowledge, clinical experience, and institutional practices related to MG diagnosis and management. The session highlights best practices for distinguishing MG from mimicking conditions, interpreting antibody and electrophysiologic findings, and selecting appropriate therapies across MG phenotypes.

The 90-minute live webinar will feature a multidisciplinary panel (eg, neurologist, pharmacist, ophthalmologist, other MG experts) who will review current understanding of MG subtypes (AChR+, MuSK+, LRP4+, seronegative) and their implications for diagnostic evaluation and therapy selection.

Panelists will discuss multidisciplinary strategies for managing fluctuating weakness, bulbar and respiratory involvement, comorbid autoimmune diseases, and quality-of-life considerations. Institutional practices will be compared to illustrating variations in care models, and a moderated Q&A will enable participants to engage directly with experts. The session will be recorded and made available for on-demand viewing.

Target Audience

This activity is designed for an audience of neurologists (including fellows and residents), and advanced practice providers, pharmacists, social workers who participate in MG diagnosis and management.

Learning Objectives

Upon completion of the educational activity, participants should be able to:

- Differentiate MG from phenotypically similar disorders
- Stratify patients by immunologic and clinical profiles
